

We sometimes feel you sit far vs to share with you secrets of the great universe and the divide between our existences. My friend, you are old and wiser than you might believe yourself to
be. Your knowledge, combined with your strength has been your resolve. Yes strength is important. An inner strength that is needed to sustain you and inspire you to seek
higher paths.
I wanted to mention

a little about your recent thoughts. You believed you should sit with your pen and allow
your inner voice to share some words.

I commend you on doing
so. That would be a useful exercise for you.

But may I say that if you intend to make the words public for others to read, ~~be~~
be warned, your inner spirit voice will say it as it is and you might Feel uncomfortable with making it entirely available to a public environment. Perhaps you could extract some pieces of the text.

Your inner voice is your higher self and it contains no filters. But I think it would be an interesting exercise.

Now, I wanted to follow up on another subject you've been giving thought to.

Your friend's wife, Sve that passed away here a White while ago. You thought you might connect with your pen and pass messages back from her.

Although that is entirely possible, I'm of the opinion that you're not advanced enough to do it with the penmanship needed.

Too much of your own
mystic techniques
would get in the way.

She is also not in a position where she could maintain the levels of energy she would need to

we during the process.

He too ~~bold~~ an ambition for gem at this time.

I do ~~admit~~ your programme thinking through!

One of the reasons that the information a medium receives is fragmented

or ~~possibly~~ can be the fault of the person in this world. Their ability to produce pure words can take time to re-evaluate.

as to how it was in earth. You see, words

are not the first language of communication this side.

In fact, they are after the last resort. We express ourselves in a richer and broader method. Our vibrational state is much higher than that of earth humans. So we can think faster and
on many levels and dimensions. You often
hear your mediums
saying slow down when they are connected to someone this side. That person is most likely already slow, but the

vibrational difference is not easy to overcome.
Answering my friend. Go ahead with your net work to listen to your higher voice.
It would be great for you.
I've had a blast talking with you today.
farewell.
