

Yes that is typical of my sense of humor and I suppose I should apologise.
I've not given much thought to who I am, or what my earth name was. I'm glad of that, yet I'm also disappointed. I'm one of the few that still like to let everyone know who I was on earth.
Of course

I see your page count has reached the amount that you like for your presentation. So I want to waste any more of your ink, so to speak.

Have a wonderful time on the island and do not forget to tell them this side allowing me to come through again soon.

Goodbye my dear friend.
