

I said I'd return and here I am.
Distractions happen, don't worry about it. We understand you know.
To pick up from where I left off,
I was comparing over two very different methods of living a life.

I don't know, but maybe when I moved on from this one, there'll
be another method of living.

My theme with you was to outline and highlight how superior our life here is, when all the facts are collated.

We hear people on earth saying that no other life will ever be as good as the one experienced on earth. Wrong! You'll find out one day yourself, that is for sure.
And you'll be so happy with your
new life in so many ways.

lots of things you do on earth will become things of the past. But you won't miss them.

I'm reminding you on when you live elsewhere and you used to always go shopping in your town every saturday without fail. But you haven't done that for at least 10 years have you?

Do you miss it? Not really. It was part of an era, as will many things in your life when you cross to this world.

Earlier I told you we have our body this side. Does it have blood? That was a question I heard in your mind. No, it doesn't need to. Our body is ethereal. It's not of mass, yet it works.

We've often asked if we visit the seaside or countryside here. The answer is yes, and it doesn't always have to be here either. Sometimes it can catch itself.

There is so much I wish I could explain, but time sadly is precious for you and I must respect it. Just remember this: when someone tells you that they don't want to come to the spirit world, ask them why. Most of the time it will be nothing more complicated than fear of the unknown.

You need to sleep again. I will share some healing for your virus infection. Goodbye.
