

TUESDAY JULY 12TH 2022 AT 1:24

Hello again. We've been waiting for you to join us. You've been a bit down in the dumps, as the saying goes. We've known about that, this side, and was concerned you might not be joining us for a while. So it's wonderful to have you back.

Yes, we know times are tough for you right now. I wish we had the answers for you, but, sadly we can't. You have to do what is right for you. Some of the darker thoughts you've been having have not been good, but we knew that your character is strong and were confident you'd not do anything silly. I want you to understand that your work with us in in the spirit world is good for you and your recent project of spirited talk has helped many people. But we recognise the issues you've been having with the lack of money and the apparent silence from your audience. You're a true sensitive and it's quite natural for you to respond and react the way you have. You carry strong views of what is expected from individuals working with us, but you must understand, everyone is unique and have their own unique patterns and ways.

You feel that your time with this project has come to an end and you carry a burden filled with disappointment. Don't, please. Your work served a valuable purpose and will continue to be remembered after you've moved on from it.

Your personal journey over the years has been one of constant change and adapting to the circumstances. Perhaps you'll see this period as such a transition. We do feel that now you have stepped worrying so much about the project and have apparently made a mental decision to move on, your life will flow freer. Your writing has become more important to you these days and we believe this is a healthy focus for you. Of course, we also know that we're going to benefit ^a more from having your attention a lot more as you continue with your own personal education.

We know of a wonderful writing opportunity coming your way soon, so keep doing what you're doing so it can come into your path.

We want you to bring this notebook with you and sit in your cabinet a lot more please. We'll be there in the concentrated energy ready to work with you. There is still much planned with you and your connection with us. Regarding your Spirted Talk project, remember that old story you used to share about how things move on?

Write the story now in your words.

" To understand how important you may think you are, imagine your finger in a glass of water. Then remove your finger and see how long the hole remains where your finger was. The water fills the hole immediately, as if your finger was never there. That is the same in life."

Yes, well done, though you write that a little harsh to novels yourself. But the sentiments remain the same.

Perhaps you might see your finger going into another glass of water very soon!

* You just stopped writing because you thought we'd gone. We hadn't! Your mediumship gave you visions of us around a table and clapping you for what you've done. That was true. We were. We thank you for the work you've done so far.
Walking away from this spiritual talk is going to make way for the next opportunities. You've done good and nobody appreciates it more than us. The time has come for you to release the worries and let your future unfold again in a different direction.

Look out for the baker coming your way.

Time to sleep now, my friend.

I know you want to write more, but not tonight please.

Rest up and return to us as soon as you can. Remember - utilise your cabinet in your sanctuary. We'll be there.

Good night. Our love comes your way, as does the love of your family over here.
