

We shall begin then. Thank you for joining us again
for your daily messages.
I'm the one today. Fred
has been nominated to come forward and
share my message of
hope and joy with you.
Yes I know how that
makes you feel! My VA
message of no content you think. I know that to be so because when I was your side I used to feel the same when I
connected and got

Smaller messages.

Why do we do this you may wonder. That is because we have access to the ~~pages~~ picture
and these things you
see might be important
about. While the message of hope and
joy is.

You see, you have all
the tools to make all
the right decisions for
your life going forward, as do all of your
founders and readers.

A fulfilled life is one where you, and you alone have used your talents for your own growth forward. Of course, we can offer some small amounts of guidance and we can show our support. But it is you alone that must choose the path to take.

So when I come forward today for you and offer an message of hope one day, I do so knowing that it is

me embracing the power
you need. You hope you
do the right things each day. Therefore bring forward that energy of hope to help you fulfill your desires. You also wish
each day to contain
peace and happiness in your pursuits and with your interactions with others around you.

Good, then you will appreciate that I will
bring you that joy
in your energy.

Hope and joy in abundance.
Could you achieve anything without these ingredients?
No. Everything people
do, is done so with hope

in varying amounts.
Peeling the potatoes may seem mundane, but they are being peeled in the hope of a nice meal
to follow. Yes, hope is more prevalent than gum might imagine, as is

Perhaps that is my message inside the message of the day. The sample

seen much other contents
more depth than at first might appear.

As I conclude my
work with you
today, I repeat I
wish you much hope
and joy for your days
ahead.

Now do you appreciate
my real message to
you.

Goodbye for now
