

Mello, so you're come to the end of your stay
in Lanzarote! I bet you you're returning here again
in a few weeks - Alright for some! Holidays weren't something that was in my family budget when I was on earth. Not that I begrudge it at all. You're on down there on earth once apparently!

You've had quite
a variety of speakers
for your inspired writing.
Certainly a mix of personalities,

that's for sure. But, let me ask you a question. Perhaps you might write your answer
at the end of my words.

Here's the question: What do you personally get from us here this side, with the words and messages we relay through you? When you're writing that, perhaps write what more you'd like to receive from us.

Do it when you finish my words.

We always want to relay
something that is of value
to both you and the reader

of these words in your future.

We never really forget our things on earth. But after a while, the memories aren't quite as bright as they were. We accustom to this world and in doing so, we advance a little more. We spend less time looking back and more time on our new focuses.

There are many novel features of this life which, at first, fascinate us and keep us amused. But like a child looked on a sweet shop, eventually the novelty wears off and our new reality becomes the most important focus.

Life is an ever changing state of evolution. Today's events are tomorrow's history. In our world, evolution feels to move at the same pace as on earth, though we can't be precise about that. But it appears we match the planet in evolution terms. Of course there is more harmony this side and so as a unifying force, we tend to achieve greater achievements farther than would be possible

on earth.

Of course, as you now know, there will never be complete harmony amongst the earth's human race. There can be no light without there being dark.

The equilibrium continues throughout life.

Great goodness is equally matched with what you
would term as great evil.
That is the equilibrium, the balance of nature.

So yes, we advance as well.

This is why your poor generations are rarely connectable with modernship. Your great great grandparents and beyond, further back centuries on your family tree. These people have moved on over here. Some to greater levels of poverty. Others reborn to earth to join the cycle of life once more.

Anyway, I digressed somewhat there. I want you to finish with my novels now and work the answers to my two questions phase.

We will receive the energy
from the words.

Goodbye my dear friend.

AS THIS SPEAKER STARTED WITH ME, I ENJOY THE DEEP
PHILOSOPHY AND OCCASIONAL INSIGHTS INTO LIFE THEIR SIDE. I ENJOY ANYTHING THAT WILL HELP ME WITH MY
INFORMATION AND EDUCATION.
I ALSO APPRECIATE IT
WHEN A SPEAKER OFFERS
EVIDENCE OF THEIR LIFE
ON EARTH.

THANK YOU FOR JOINING ME
