

Good Evening Sir. I hope you're starting to recover from your infection. Thank you and well done for making an effort to continue with your pen sessions with us.

You were thinking a question a while ago and because you addressed it to us, I will endeavour to answer it. Spend a moment and write the question. I will help maintain our connection.

DOES THE SPIRIT WORLD KNOW WHEN PEOPLE ARE GOING TO DIE?

Well, as you wrote that question, you thought you might have worded it incorrectly. But don't worry, I know what you meant.

The answer is a complex one for me to answer fully in a way that you, and others reading this, will understand. As we've said many times, our existence is in a different dimension to yours with some different natural rules, that are different to yours on earth. However let me try and be clear.

The short answer is yes we do. But because of our time differences and how we are not governed by time, it's more than often, difficult to precisely nail down when, in relation to a specific time.

As your time remaining on earth shortens, we become aware that your time is nearing, because your energy field strengthens this side. It's your spirit that transfers the energy, as in putting more focus on here than there.

It's a natural law here that even if we knew something was changing in your energy presence, no living person this side would disclose it. This is mainly because it's difficult to accurately use your time references. But of course it's more of a moral law, one that nobody here would ever consider breaching. Your life on earth is precious. Your life is made up of moments of your time, and every single moment is considered precious to you, even if you're unaware of that.

We always say that life here continues as it does on earth, but within a different modal, if that's the correct word.

I, and every person here, would always encourage you to embrace and experience every moment, every breath, every experience. by learning to live in that moment. It is only humans that obsess with dying. Animals and other plant and living source does not even contemplate it.

The intelligence of human's multi-dimensional expression means that such events as death, as you sometimes refer to it, are contemplated frequently. That is not wrong. That's the nature of human intelligence.

Truth is, even if there was some magic way we could give you a date and time of your passing (which there isn't such a thing) what good would it do for you to know. I'm sure most humans would rather not know.

You could die tomorrow, I don't know. It is for you to live your life to the fullest.

I think I've answered that question rather well. I've said what I know in terms of your life experience.

Now, don't forget to continue with your healing hands on yourself. If it helps, sense the healing energy as if it's oozing from a red healing lamp. If you don't sense it, don't worry, it will still happen. Now, rest up and regain your strength. We have much to share with you yet.

Goodbye dear friend.