

Open the doors to the Kingdom of God.

Open your heart and let him in:
for the power of infinity is beheld the one that welcomes the Divine within them.

My friend, I share these words with you as a gift that you may use in
your way forward.

The soul is not an
empty container, but
filled with love and
wisdom of the order
of life.

The great light's source

is within each and every soul. Some see it as bright as the brightest suns. Others see
nothing, even though the
light is shining deep
inside them.

Help the blind to see
the light.

Guide them through
their darkness, forward
until they light their own paths.

Life is more than
just a miracle created
by God. Life is

everything you've ever
experienced, and everything you're yet to.

Your soul needs only
to learn, support and
guide your life to its
chosen path!

To love god is to love yourself. To love god is to understand everything.
To know god is the
ultimate achievement.
because knowing god
is being god.
To be god is to
serve with all that

Good stands for. God wants no sacrifice, only for you to choose what is right for your soul
and the purpose

My words are from
my very essence for
you, to you and
with you.

My only message to
you is to stand
with understanding
of how great you
are and how painful
your role in this life is.

Perhaps as I leave you
these words you enjoy
your understanding of them. I can not for all that you will become in already
planned when you.

If you are walked
in darkness ~~and~~ as a blindman without a
stick, first in knowing God is there to offer
support, a force to
lean on and help you
take every step you
desire.

I thank you with a
renewed energy that you may keep on moving
forward, every day
becoming stronger.

I have nothing more
to share with you.
Amen
