

Hello. Over the past few days you have played a good role in your connection with us and those messages you conveyed to your new friends. They came into your life as part of the bigger plan.

The way you handled the communications was commendable. Both Ian and Jane were in need of that knowing that you and the connection made. Jane's mum was comfortable in knowing she had strong children to continue and support the family.

Her mum had wanted to speak to her for some while and you offered the perfect opportunity.

Ian's parents live this side with so many regrets from their actions on earth. You became aware of those issues

during the connection, but said only enough to reassure and comfort.

Ian carries the burden through his life and one day will be free of the burden for good. Your reading offered him love and hope and started the work that needs to be done.

Mediumship is indeed a marvelous gift and you should be proud of how you use yours.

Many signs were sent your way, a few of which you noticed. Yes, the two parrots were a sign, though at that moment you hadn't recognised it.

I'm glad you liked the two doves this morning. They were sent by those that you relayed messages for.
Since you've realised that there is no great mystery or power between our two worlds, your connections have been clearer and free flowing.
I know how many emotions you have experienced over these past days, but that is only credit to your awareness.

I know you don't require gifts for the work you are doing, but I'm assured, one is on its way ~~to you~~. proud of how far you have come and excited about the journey ahead.

I know you don't take praise easily and I'm aware how uncomfortable you are writing my words.
But may I finally say to your readers that the best way to improve your mediumship is to treat it with respect and as the great gift it is.

Yes anyone can learn your new skills, but it is only the very few that are enlightened to do so.

Keep doing what you can each day to walk the straighter path and open yourself to the exciting emotions our walk offers.

Good to be with you all.

Goodbye.
